Why True Colors?

True Colors is described as a communication model that is deeply rooted in personality typing and temperament - It is not an intelligence test! Through engaging activities, the participants explore how they are wired, how they engage with others, what drives them and what frustrates them. Our goal is to have fun and make sessions accessible to everyone! Ultimately, recognizing and understanding our differences promotes greater acceptance and improved relationships.

Goals of Workshop:

- Understand Yourself
- Understand Others
- Appreciate Our Differences
